Thank Ashland.

General Logan Post and Corps of Grants Pass, Ore., wish to thank the G. A. R. and citizens of Ashland for the royal and loyal reception that has been given them during the week's encampment in your beautiful city, and especially do we extend our appreciation to the ladies of Burnside W. R. C. for the bountiful dinner served in the armory hall.

COMMITTEE.

Auxiliary Picnic.

The Auxiliary Club members with their husbands and families held a most merry picnic in Lithia park picnic grounds last Wednesday evening. All kinds of good things to eat loaded down the picnic tables, and, needless to say, the men at least voted the affair the most successful the club has yet fostered. After the picnic the gathering adjourned to the bandstand for the regular Wednesday night concert.

Entertain Dr. Landrith.

Dr. Ira Landrith, candidate for vice-president of the United States on the prohibition ticket, was entertained by relatives while in Ashland Saturday night and Sunday. Miss Amy Ramsey and Thomas W. Hudson are cousins of the distinguished visitor and Charles Ramsey is an uncle of Mr. Landrith. He was entertained at his home on Seaside Drive. Mr. Landrith was formerly dean of Belmont College at Nashville, Tenn., but more recently has been making his home in Boston.

Social at Talent.

The big social event of the season in the community of Talent is to be held at Odd Fellows hall next Friday night. Forty men of Talent under the auspices of the Men's Club of the M. E. church will serve a dinner, planned, cooked and served by these forty men. An interesting musical and literary program will be given. Nothing so far on such a large scale has ever been undertaken in the town of Talent before, and naturally the excitement is running high. The

Immense Prizes For Livestock

A 54-page booklet containing the preliminary classification of the Pacific International Livestock Exposition which is to be held in Portland December 4-9, 1916, has been received with the following letter:

"We enclose herewith preliminary classification of our Sixth Annual Pacific International Livestock Exposition, to be held at Union Stock Yards, North Portland, Ore., December 4-9, 1916.

"Owing to the splendid manner in which the Oregon Bankers' Association, the Portland Chamber of Commerce, the state of Oregon and the different breed associations have made appropriations, the show this year will take rank with the largest livestock exhibitions in the United States. Between $20,000 and $25,000 will be given in cash premiums for livestock. The Shorthorn and Hereford associations of America have made total appropriations of $5,000, which, being matched by the exposition, makes premiums of $10,000 for those two breeds alone and insures the strongest kind of competition in this class.

"Close to $5,000 is being offered in the dairy division, which covers Holsteins, Jerseys, Guernseys and Ayrshires. Practically $2,500 is being given in the sheep classes, while hogs are recognized to about the same extent. The draft type of horses are given over $1,200, divided between the Pershires, Belgians, Clydes and Shires. Cattle in car lots are recognized to the extent of $2,500. The student judging contest, to be participated in by all of the agricultural colleges of the northwest, again receive $300.

"We call attention of the breeders to the fact that the closing dates are as follows: Breeding classes, November 13, 1916; fat classes, November 27, 1916. Positively no entries will receive consideration unless in our office at North Portland on or before noon of the above closing dates. This rule enables us to put forth a catalogue very valuable to both the visitors and to the exhibitors. Entry blanks will be furnished upon application to the undersigned and exhibitors should note on their entry blanks number of stalls or pens required for their showing.

"Members of the granges of Oregon, Washington and Idaho have indicated their intention of attending in large numbers, over 2,500 being expected. Judges of national reputation will handle the different classes.

General Manager.

Open the Eyes Under Water.

Practice opening the eyes under water in swimming, for with favorable conditions there is much to be seen and enjoyed in the queer, ghostly light below. The ability to see when below the surface may some time prove of priceless value. It is one of the attributes of swimming, and it may be readily mastered. But do not open the eyes until well below. The closed lid is an ample protection when one is plunging from any height, and it should remain closed until the first swift downward rush is ended.—All Outdoors.

Sizes of the Planets

An ingenious way of comparing the sizes of planets with the sun is suggested by a French scientific writer. Let the earth, he says, be represented by a twenty franc piece; then Venus is 15 francs, Mars 2, Mercury 7, Uranus 280, Neptune 320, Saturn 1,840, Jupiter 6,800 and the sun 6,780,000.

Didn't Care For It.

"Ever try liquid soap?" asked the barber.
"No, and don't want to," replied the man in the chair.
"Why not?"
"Oh, well, if I have to eat soap I'd just as leave chew it as drink it!"—Yonkers Statesman.

A RECEPTION FROCK.

For the matron is this graceful gown developed in black satin, with a charming overdraped of chintilly lace. The skirt is cut rather short in front, exercising the freedom of skirt items on party frocks, while the train, instead of springing casually from almost any point in the back, is a harmonious development of the skirt drapery itself. Black Jet gives the girle and shoulder banding. It is almost unnecessary to add that this beautiful frock was designed by Mme. Callot.

A PALM BEACH GIRL.

Tan colors are taking the lead with many of the spring suits. This trim suit features a tan ribbed serge with a full skirt that has wide, inverted plaits on the hips to give the fullness. The coat has a rippled flare, and the detachable collar is of white faille silk. Ball buttons in a deeper tan give a neat finish, the front being single breasted.

LINEN FROCKS.

Linen frocks for young women have now made their appearance. They are of French or rami linen, quite sturdy as to weave and rather tailorish as to cut. They have boyish pockets and straight skirts, simple blouses with white collars and are rather plain in general, but quite good looking. They come in pretty rose shades, charming blues and brown tans.

Old Soldiers Part For Another Year

Friday was the last day of the old soldiers' and sailors' twenty-fourth annual reunion, pronounced to be one of the very best of late years. It was Grants Pass day and Grants Pass people did their part well. In the morning the veterans installed officers for the coming year. At noon a dinner was served in the armory to 238 members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. and their families. In the afternoon Rev. Douglas of Grants Pass spoke on the "Past, Present and Future" in relation to the old soldiers and sailors. In the evening the Grants Pass people gave an entertainment with music and speaking.

Mayor Johnson of Ashland extended an invitation to the association to meet again in Ashland next year, but there were no other invitations and the matter was left undecided. The chaplain's report on Thursday forenoon showed that 23 veterans had died during the past year.

Following are the names of the members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. as taken from their official register made up on the grounds during the reunion. The figures following the names indicate the ages. Those for the W. R. C. members were not given and there appeared no explanation for the omission:

Three Days' Offering At Vining Theatre

Monday.

"The Woman's Law," featuring Florence Reed, is the attraction for tonight at the Vining Theatre. "The Woman's Law" was filmed from the novel of the same name by Maravene Thompson, and gives Miss Reed an opportunity to display the terrific dramatic earnestness that made her work in "At Bay" and "New York" so salient. Miss Reed's art is viewed with a more curious interest when it is known that she considers her acting the real part of her life and her time between plays a make-believe life that is as non-serious as it is unreal. Life to her means urgent, stressful being, and it is because our daily lives are colorful only in spots, that Miss Reed turns to the stage and screen to realize the high tension that means life to her.

Tuesday.

Dustin Farnum comes to the Vining Tuesday night in a wonderfully faithful screen adaptation of the celebrated play, "David Garrick." The story is so familiar as to need no press notice, and the fame of the celebrated actor is such as to assure the Vining of a full house on Tuesday evening.

Wednesday.

The famous Broadway comedy success, "Excuse Me," a Pullman car tangle full of giggles from start to finish of its five reels, and featuring the comedy stars of the screen, billed in Portland as the most daring laugh producer ever shown, comes Wednesday night.

ATTRACTS BUSINESS MEN.

Mr. Hughes has not tried to scare anybody, but has merely portrayed the errors of the present administration and set forth certain principles on which the affairs of the country should be managed in the future.

There is a political logic in his portrayal, the culmination of which in the mind of the voter is expressed by the frequent remark:

"He is the kind of man we want to steer us through."

This has been said by many a business man. The qualities seen in Mr. Hughes are those of a strong, sane mind, sincerity and a willingness to sacrifice life, physical or political, to the good of the country. Nor is there any question as to the quality of nerve to meet the emergencies of the four years beginning March 4, 1917.
